ST. FRANCIS MEDICAL CENTER NAMES RECIPIENT OF NURSING
NURSING EXCELLENCE AWARD

Lisa Ware, RN, was awarded the 2006 St. Francis Medical Center Nursing Excellence Award. The peer-nominated award is bestowed each year on the nurse who best exemplifies outstanding nursing practice.

Lisa began her career at St. Francis in 1987 as an LPN in the Medical Surgery Department. In 1990 she received her RN from Helene Fuld School of Nursing. Ware now works in the Intensive Care Unit at St. Francis. Lisa is president of the Unit Practice Council (UPC), is a Wound Management Coordinator, and a Specialty Bed Coordinator. She resides in Trenton.

According to Carol McAloon, Vice President of Patient Care Services and Chief Nursing Officer at St. Francis Medical Center, "Lisa has been a critical care nurse for many years. She is known to her patient's as a skilled, professional nurse; and to her patient's family members as a compassionate, caring individual."
